"We were in a challenging position, needing a reliable and efficient solution quickly," recalled Haseeb Abdul Qayyum, Finance Director at Dacha Real Estate. The company sought a system that could immediately address their urgent needs while supporting their future growth. "With the real estate industry becoming increasingly digital, we needed a system that could efficiently track requests, manage leave, and ensure quick response times for settlements and reports," Haseeb noted. Dacha required a solution that was user-friendly, adaptable, and customisable to meet their specific operational demands. That's when the Dacha team discovered Yomly, which had received strong recommendations and positive reviews for its effectiveness and flexibility.

"The mobile app has been a game-changer, allowing our employees to submit requests to HR on the go, greatly enhancing employee self-service and streamlining our operations,"

Solution

After thorough deliberation, Dacha Real Estate selected Yomly for its high level of customisation, user-friendly interface, and dedicated customer support team. Yomly's adaptability to Dacha's specific requirements was a key factor in their decision. "The payroll generation feature, which is quick, easy, and flexible, was particularly appealing, even accommodating last-minute changes," noted Haseeb. Although there were initial concerns that the transition from their previous platform would be complicated, "Yomly's implementation team provided strong support, ensuring a smooth switch," he added. Virtual training sessions further aided the process, helping the team adapt to the new platform quickly. Since going live, Yomly has significantly enhanced productivity and streamlined employee file management. "The mobile app has been a game-changer, allowing our employees to submit requests to HR on the go, greatly enhancing employee self-service and streamlining our operations," remarked Haseeb.
